PROFESSOR PREDICTS A RACE WAR

ORIENTALS SEEKING PLACES HERE

Future of the Pacific Coast Is at Stake.

HONOLULU, DEC. 6.—GOVERNOR CARTER EXPRESSES HIS APPROVAL OF THE NATURALIZATION OF JAPANESE AS ADVOCATED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN HIS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS BY THE LAR SENATOR FAVORS THE POSITION TAKEN BY THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA. THE PLANTERS HERE CLAIM THAT THEY HAVE SPENT LARGE SUMS TO BUILD UP AND DEVELOP A MIDDLE CLASS OF SUBSTANTIAL CITIZENS.

BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—That the future holds a mighty conflict between the Orientals and the white race for the supremacy of the Pacific Coast was the prediction during the course of talk by Professor S. B. Christy to the students of the senior class at a banquet held in South Hall at the University of California last evening.

The professor, who is dean of the College of Mines at the University, and who is one of the most thoughtful and patriotic citizens of the State, was speaking to the students to serious purpose in their college work that they might in the days to come represent that type of citizenship upon which the salvation of the Republic will depend.

"Do you young men realize," said Professor Christy in substance, "that the great State of California contains an area greater than that of Great Britain and Ireland, greater than that of Japan, greater than that of Austria, and as large as that of the German Empire?"

Opposite to the other side of the ocean is another civilization, an older civilization than ours, but a civilization by no means dead. The people over there are awakening to new life, they are ambitious and some day their civilization is going to come into conflict with ours.

"It will depend on the character of work that you young men do whether our civilization will survive in the Pacific. Do you realize that when California becomes as thickly populated as Great Britain is now—and some day that will happen—this State will contain a population of eighty-five millions of people?"

"Think of it, a population in California greater than the whole population of the United States at the present time! It remains with young men to say whether that population will consist of people of your own race or whether the Orientals shall possess the land."

Samuel Benedict Christy, Ph. D., Dean of the College of Mining at the University of California, who, during an address to students last night, declared that war between the United States and Japan is certain to come some time in the future, and that the outcome of the hostilities depends entirely upon how the young men of today live.

THIS COUNTY TO CONSIDER JAP QUESTION

A meeting is to be called in the very near future by T. F. Marshall, president of the Chinese and Japanese Exclusion League of Alameda County, to consider the Japanese school problem which is agitating citizens on both sides of the bay.

The members of the league and all who are interested in the question are to be invited. In speaking of the matter, President Marshall said: "The question is an important one, and I am confident that instead of a few score members, we shall soon number thousands. I cannot estimate the number of people who have come to me in the last few days and asked me to get a meeting of the league, so that some sort of active work might be outlined."

"We want all persons who feel themselves aggrieved either by the imposition of having adult Mongolians sitting beside their children in the public schools, or by the vital issue that has been raised by the president in his message, threatening to violate the fundamental principles of the State constitution."

"I have called a meeting of the executive body of the league for the purpose of discussing the situation, and I invite any other persons who wish to discuss it to call upon me at 815 San Francisco avenue, at any time between 8:30 in the morning and 8 in the evening. I want to learn the sentiment of the people in general, and the more people I can meet the better I shall be pleased."

HARNESS AUCTION SALE. We have received instructions to sell at 1023 Clay street, Oakland, near Elder street, this Saturday, December 8, at 10:30 a. m. Railroad Sale—At the above mentioned place and at the same time we will also sell: 27 cooking stoves and 35 heating stoves.

DEATH IN A FIRE AT "FRAT" HOUSE

Cornell University
in Ruins.

ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Early this morning the beautiful Chi Psi fraternity house at Cornell University caught fire and soon was all aflame. Before the fire department could arrive, O. L. Schmuck of Hanover, Pa., had jumped from the third story window and was so severely injured that he died soon after being taken to the infirmary. Three of Ithaca's volunteer firemen were killed while fighting the flames. Three students lie in the infirmary at the point of death. It is not known how many are in the ruins.

The chapter house was a mansion built by Mrs. Jennie McGraw Fiske on the campus overlooking Cayuga Lake, but never occupied by her because of her premature death. It was a beautiful structure of sandstone, handsomely decorated and finished within with marble and mahogany. The walls, which were of rubble masonry, collapsed under the flames and high wind, leaving only a heap of ruins.

The firemen killed were: A. S. Robinson, a lawyer and graduate of Cornell. Esby Langdon. John Ramsey.

They were manipulating a hose on the north side of the building when the wall collapsed on them and pinned them to the ground, to slowly roast under the burning debris.

When the fire department arrived the screams of two men, appearing in the windows of the southwest tower, over the main entrance, were heard. For some reason the men hesitated to jump and before they could be reached the tower collapsed and the men were burned beneath the ruins. One of these is supposed to be H. M. Nichols of Chicago.

The chapter house burned rapidly and the walls cracked apart in all directions. The fire was so hot that the firemen were driven from the southeast side of the building.

President Schuman of Cornell and his staff are preparing a list of wounded and missing.

Among those taken from the ruins were J. M. McCutcheon of Pittsburg, the football fullback substitute. Those taken out were in a pitiable condition. They were bleeding from cuts caused by falling bricks and timbers and blackened by smoke. Several of them were badly burned.

C. K. Pope, a freshman member of the fraternity, is missing and is supposed to be under the ruins.

SENATOR PERKINS ON THE JAPANESE SITUATION

Senator George C. Perkins of this city who yesterday at Washington, D. C., gave an interview on the Japanese situation.

Just as Senator George C. Perkins of Oakland, Cal., was leaving the White House yesterday, he expressed the belief that the President would bow to sentiment on the Pacific Coast and shortly enter negotiations with Japan for the exclusion from the United States of peons and coolies of that country.

"I am perfectly satisfied that the President, who is a patriotic American, will soon be found opening negotiations with Japan for the modification of the existing treaty as to the admission of Japanese to this country and that this treaty, like that with China, will provide that peons and coolies cannot come into the United States," said Senator Perkins.

"Would Japan be offended if such a request should be made by this country?" he was asked.

"I cannot see how. The Japanese government claims that it does not want Japanese laborers to come to this country. It is absolutely certain that we do not want them and that we will not have them. The Japanese claim that they prefer that their people shall go to Korea and Manchuria. If that is true that country could have no objection to our desire to exclude these people."

"Did you talk to the President about the reference in his message to the use of the armed forces of the United States?"

"No, I did not, and he did not make any mention of it to me, but I am satisfied that he meant it in case the Japanese need protection. The President means to do what is right, and I believe He will learn that the Pacific Coast is unanimous in its sentiment."

More fuss has been made about it East than out West. The truth is that there are not forty Japanese children of school age in the city of San Francisco and probably not 100 in the whole State. Therefore, it seems to me that the small number of children should make no objection to attending the schools set aside for them and maintained by taxation of white taxpayers. Here in Washington there are separate schools for white and colored children. In California we have a law forbidding any minister to marry a Caucasian and a Mongolian. There has never been any rumormongering about that. So why should there be about separation of the school children? I claim we have not violated the treaty with Japan in letter or spirit. If the courts see fit to uphold the contention that the treaty is violated we will see that a new treaty is made that will not give such rights."

WOMAN IS BURGLAR! CAPTURED IN ACT

Men Awake to Find
Her Looting
Clothes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Peter Bates and Charles Fendler, who occupied room seven, at the Cable house on Valencia street last night, were awakened about 4:40 o'clock this morning by some one in their room. On investigation, the someone proved to be a woman, and on further investigation, the woman proved to be a burglar. She is alleged to have stolen a $50 watch and $1.50 in cash from Bates' trousers' pockets.

The woman must have made a noise in carrying on her operations, for Bates awoke suddenly, and discerned the woman crouching in a corner of the room. Bates immediately dressed himself, and telling Fendler to lock the door after him, he went out to notify a policeman. Officer Bolton came to the scene and took the woman in custody. Her accomplice, who gave his name as Louis Bray, who was apparently on the watch outside, was also arrested, and both were booked at the Bush street jail. The woman gave her name as Rose Carey. Neither the watch nor the money was found on their persons, and if the woman took them, the police are mystified as to what she did with them. They were of the opinion that she left them in the room when discovered.

3 BURGLARS FOILED IN A BOLD CRIME

Explosion Creates an Alarm; Crooks
Vanish.

HAYWARD, Dec. 7.—A sensational robbery occurred here this morning when the safe in the general merchandise store of Joe Correria, at the corner of Castro and B streets, was blown open and completely wrecked by three robbers. The noise from the explosion aroused the people in the neighborhood and the robbers were frightened away, falling to obtain $175 in cash that was in the safe.

It is stated that the safe-crackers are professional crooks, as the work on the Correria safe indicated that they knew their business well. The men made one mistake in putting an overcharge of nitro-glycerine between the doors of the strong box. This had the effect of completely wrecking the front of the safe.

A man who was sleeping upstairs in the building was aroused by the noise. He put his head out of the window and called for help. One of the robbers stepped out of the store and leveling a pistol at him, told him to keep quiet or he would blow his head off. The robber then retired into the store.

Meantime, the citizen upstairs found Nightwatchman Pimentel and together they went across the street to get a third party, to aid in their attack on the robbers. By the time they returned to the store the three men had disappeared.

Mrs. Nelson Borea, who resides on Castro street, distinctly saw the three men as they passed her house on their morning, and it was only the excellent work of the local fire department that saved the whole section of the city. The fire broke out in the Pilcher planing mill, and spread to the Union Tank company's plant adjoining. Both places were totally destroyed. No lives were lost, however. The damage will amount to between $25,000 and $75,000.

JAPANESE CONSUL URGES TALKS ON THE MESSAGE

Head of the Mikado's People Here Lauds President Roosevelt's Attitude on the School Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Japanese Consul General K. Uyeno, who has deferentially refrained from discussing the Japanese school segregation question since it has been made the subject of international negotiation, consented to put aside his reticence yesterday when questioned concerning the effect the recommendations made in the message of President Roosevelt had upon the Japanese in San Francisco.

"Sentiment is practically universal among the ten thousand Japanese in San Francisco that the recommendations made by President Roosevelt constitute the most rational solution of American-Japanese problems yet attempted," he said. "The Japanese are not only pleased over the message, but they regard it as one of the most noteworthy documents on international questions that have been issued from the White House."

"There is no question but that the bonds between Japan and the United States would be considerably strengthened by conferring the privilege of franchise on the Japanese in California. There are some fifty odd thousand Japanese in the State, and while I am not in a position to say how many of these would take advantage of naturalization privileges, I do think that the number would be comparatively large. I think this would be especially so in the case of the Japanese in San Francisco. Many Japanese have family and property interests here, and they would naturally regard San Francisco as their permanent home once they believed that they had the same privileges as other aliens."

"Concerning the school segregation question a lot is being written and talked about it that is due to misconception of the facts in the case. Take, for instance, the subject of adults mixing in classes with young children. I don't propose to argue this matter from a Japanese standpoint. When Secretary Metcalf was here securing data on the dispute he was given a list of the Japanese pupils attending the different schools. Here is a copy of the list, which, it should be remembered, was prepared for him by the Board of Education. I think there will be no question raised as to its accuracy. Let us go over it and see what we find."

ONLY TWO ARE 20 YEARS OLD. "A recapitulation of the figures shows that there were 93 Japanese pupils attending 23 schools in San Francisco up to the time the resolutions deciding on the segregation were passed by the Board of Education. Of these 93 pupils, only two were 20 years of age. Going down the list, we find that there were four at the age of 19, six at the age of 18, twelve at the age of 17, nine at the age of 16, and ten at the age of 15. The remainder of the 93 were between the ages of 14 and 6."

"These figures speak for themselves and need no comment. They probably explain why the question raised in San Francisco of Japanese adults attending the schools was not referred to in the message of the President. I don't, of course, wish to say that this was so, but the list was taken to Washington by Secretary Metcalf and the presumption is at least permissible. "It would be interesting to compare this list with a similarly prepared list of other foreign pupils attending the schools in San Francisco. Apart from this, however, I think it can easily be established that all of the Japanese of advanced age attending schools are in the higher grades and that the discrepancy between their ages and that of the other pupils is not so great when figured out on class average."

"I think that the entire matter will be solved satisfactorily and that there is no occasion for believing otherwise. The Japanese are not striving for anything unreasonable and are quite willing to let the facts in the dispute guide whatever decision is to be ultimately rendered."

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS ON TRIAL TOMORROW

The preliminary examination of Earl Waring and Francis Smith, the two youths who are accused of robbing many homes and second-hand stores in this city, will have their examination on charges of burglary tomorrow before Police Judge Smith. The two boys have confessed to many crimes and the police believe that the young prisoners have been instrumental in committing many of the petty thefts which have been reported the last month.

FIVE MONTHS FOR AMATEUR FIGHTER

George Ormrod, an amateur pugilist, did not take Judge Smith's warning to get out of town at once and this morning he reappeared in court on a charge of drunkenness. He was given $100 or 30 days on the charge made against him last night, and $30 or 15 days on each of the charges of drunkenness and using vulgar language, which were filed against him about a week ago, at which time Judge Smith exiled him from the city.

NEGRO ARRAIGNED ON LARCENY CHARGE

After his preliminary examination this morning before Police Judge Smith, Harry B. Redd, a negro, was held over to the Superior Court on a charge of grand larceny. Carl Dechow swore to the complaint against Redd, accusing the negro of stealing his bicycle. When taken to the police station, Redd made a full confession to Detective Quigley and Flynn.

CARRIAGE WAS OVERTURNED

Returning From Funeral Horses Run Away—Two Women Inside Vehicle.

Mrs. Charles Burckhalter and Mrs. Helen Kelly, a notary public of this city, had an experience yesterday which they will not soon forget. The two women were returning in a hack from the Chamberlain funeral. As they neared the steep grade between the chapel of the Oakland crematory and Piedmont avenue, the horses became unmanageable and started on a gallop down the incline. The driver, James Elliott, was thrown from his seat, and the horses, made suddenly free by the driver's losing his hold, continued on their mad dash.

The frightened women, confident that death awaited them, sat with blanched cheeks and waited the terrible moment. In the descent down the incline, the carriage was overturned, and, with the two women prisoners inside, it was dragged along on its side.

As they turned into Piedmont avenue the horses were brought to a standstill and the two women were assisted from the wrecked carriage. Though both were considerably bruised and shaken, they suffered no serious injury, and were only too thankful that they had escaped with their lives.

TRY DANDELION

Try at OUR EXPENSE what Dandelion will do to help you get better. It is an old-fashioned remedy—been in use over four hundred years—this fact alone proves its value as a medicine. Dr. Edwards' Dandelion Tablets and Pills—a famous private prescription—are the best form in which to take this preparation. Get a free trial package at the drug store named below.

What Dandelion Tablets and Pills Are.

Everybody knows that Dandelion is the most valuable of all Nature's remedies. Well, Dr. Edwards' Tablets and Pills are simply common dandelion (Taraxicum) in a concentrated form combined with other harmless ingredients of purely vegetable matter. They are one of the very few proprietary medicines endorsed by the medical profession. If your physician desires to know what this preparation contains, have him write us and we will gladly send him the information together with the name of the expert chemist who superintends their manufacture.

Fac-Simile of Label on Box.

Diseases Cured by Dandelion Tablets and Pills.

Constipation. In constipation the Tablets act as a mild cathartic; the Pills are slightly stronger, but both tablets and pills act upon the mucous membranes of the intestines, therefore their action is absolutely sure and also for this reason they never gripe or cause the least discomfort. They are equally good for children as well as adults, because they are a tonic and do not produce any unnatural condition of the bowels.

Stomach Trouble.

The Tablets are the best to use in case of Stomach Trouble which takes the form of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, etc., because they tone up the system and stimulate the flow of gastric juice, thus very effectively aiding the digestive organs to perform their proper functions. Their mildly cathartic action also relieves the stomach of all refuse and undigested matter.

Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism.

All kidney trouble and nearly every case of Rheumatism is due to presence of uric acid in the blood. Dr. Edwards' Dandelion Pills through their direct action upon the Liver and Kidneys restore these organs to a sound and healthy condition. The uric acid then passes away through the natural channel and the blood becomes pure again and free from all poisonous matter.

We only guarantee to cure Rheumatism when it is caused by presence of uric acid in the blood. We have cured hundreds of cases because this is usually the cause of rheumatic affections.

Liver Trouble.

Through their direct and immediate action upon the liver Dr. Edwards' Dandelion Tablets and Pills induce a natural flow of bile. This relieves the congested condition of the liver and enables it to perform its important work of keeping the bowels and stomach in a healthy condition.

Nervous Trouble.

It is well to remember that disordered nerves are nearly always caused by a disordered stomach. We do not make a specialty of nervous troubles unless they are caused by stomach trouble—then we cure them permanently.

EFFORT MADE TO FREE HIM

Counsel for Stangland Wanted In Chicago Files a Demurrer.

An effort to have Knute Stangland, who is wanted in Cook county, Illinois, on a charge of larceny, released from custody, was made this morning in Police Judge Samuels' Court. Counsel for the defendant demurred to the complaint, sworn to by Captain of Police Peterson, and charging Stangland with being a fugitive from justice. It was claimed that the complaint was one of information and belief and not direct knowledge of the crime for which the prisoner is wanted in Illinois. Judge Samuels took the demurrer under advisement until tomorrow afternoon.

Stangland is wanted, it is said, for stealing eighty pounds of copper wire, but it is believed that a more serious charge is pending against him in the Illinois courts. An officer is now hurrying West to take Stangland back to Chicago.

Our Holiday Announcement

We wish to announce to the Public that our store will remain open evenings until nine o'clock beginning December 1st and to continue till Christmas. Our reason for doing this is to give those who are busy during the day time to investigate to our goods at their leisure. We have found it necessary of late to make many evening appointments for people who had rather make a selection of a piano when they have ample time and when all who are interested in the purchase can be present.

We now have a complete line of Knabe Grands, Uprights, Combination Pianos, and all the different styles of the following makes: Mason & Hamlin, Hardman, Conover, Packard, Price & Teeple, Ludwig, Harrington, Kingsbury and others. Don't be stingy callers at our house as we are always willing to put our time against yours for the benefit of your enlightenment. We do not claim that we are going to give you a piano for the asking, nor to sell you one without a profit, as that would be an insult to your better judgment. We do not carry a line of pianos that have to be sold to ignorant or unwary people, as we cater to a class who are educated in music and well informed on the different makes of pianos. Of course, we always have some cheap pianos, which we sell for practice purposes, always with the privilege of exchanging later for a better one and the full amount applied thereon. We are positive if you would consult any dealer who has a stock such as we, he would also advise you to buy the best as it is cheapest in the end. Now we do not wish to infer that we have a monopoly on all of the good pianos as that would not be fair to some of our competitors, who also have good goods but we do claim to have a more complete line and more different agencies of high grade pianos than any other house on the coast, and if you investigate our line you will certainly agree with us. We have found by experience that the Oakland people appreciate purchasing from a thoroughly reliable house which does not have to hold out false inducements to obtain patronage.

We are now giving a sale on slightly used and broken lines of pianos that are not regularly carried by us, which we will discount from 10 per cent to 20 per cent from their regular prices. It is a good time to purchase. We will be glad to see you any time.

A DISTINGUISHED CAREER

The important announcement of the new corporation, the Athens Realty Company, suggests an appreciative word regarding Mr. J. S. Myers, the President and General Manager of the company. Few among us have earlier and more judiciously recognized Oakland than has Mr. Myers. Especially as a builder of homes he has been known everywhere this side of the bay. His quick understanding of natural features and of architectural designing and constructing and his ingenuity in putting the right kind of house on the right lot have made him so popular among owners of real estate that over 250 residences have been erected by him during the last ten years.

In the more conspicuous and extensive development of business property, Mr. Myers has been perhaps the largest trusted real estate man in Alameda county. It was hardly more than twelve days after the earthquake in San Francisco before he had completed for the burned out Diamond Rubber Co. their present offices and warehouse on Broadway and Seventeenth street, thus securing for Oakland, one of the largest rubber-goods houses in the United States. The Beach-Robinson Furniture Company's structure followed soon after. The remodeling of the Fashion Stables, one of his recent purchases on Broadway between Seventh and Eighth streets, to practically a fire proof office and store building is one of the prettiest finished buildings of Broadway.

Mr. Myers first brought Franklin street to the front as an artery of business, erecting on the west side of Franklin street between Eleventh and Twelfth street, one of his most conspicuous buildings.

The new China Center was established by Mr. Myers in his Oriental block on Second and Jackson streets. It has cost over $50,000 and with its spacious verandas. It is a marvel of grandeur from the Oriental view point. Here is to be the Chinese Bank and Theater, Joss House and Telephone Exchange, with a Chop Suey restaurant of the most modern American type.

Judge Gibson, Superior Judge of Alameda county, Dudley Kinsell, Vice-president of the State Savings Bank, John P. Maxwell, the well known hardware merchant. These distinguished of the wine industry of California, A. N. Lewis, trustee of the Lux estate of Miller & Lux, and director of the Bank of Alameda, and George S. Tilden, one of the best real estate men of the coast are associated with Mr. Myers in forming the directors of the new company. The incorporation is for $1,000,000, $400,000 of which are available assets in Mr. Myers' real estate holdings and cash. The office of the organization will be at 420 Eleventh street, near Broadway.

Mr. Myers is eminently a man self-made. Work for him began on the farm in Woodstock, Conn., at the early age of eleven, and $11 was his wage the first year. All his earnings he dutifully turned over to his parents until he became twenty-one, then without money he worked his way to California and Oakland. Gripman on the Piedmont avenue car line was his first job and from this position he made but one change, that to a clerkship for the grocery firm of Torrey, Whitman & Gardiner, before he began his career in real estate, which has resulted in gaining for him one of the largest and most permanent empires of any real estate man in Alameda county.

SHOOT DIVISION. The schoolmaster of a small village asked the following question: "In a family there are five children, and mother has only four potatoes between them. She wants to give every child an equal share. What is she going to do?" Silence reigned while everybody thought hard. At a little boy stood up and gave, to the great surprise of the master, the following answer: "Mash the potatoes, sir."—Judge's Library.

Are You DEAF?

I was deaf myself for 25 years. I perfected and patented a small, invisible ear drum in order to help my own hearing. It is called "The Way Ear Drum," and by the use of these drums I can NOW HEAR WHISPERS. I want all deaf people to call and see me while I am in Oakland. I shall be at the Metropole Hotel until Dec. 8th, inclusive.

I do not claim to cure all cases of deafness, neither can I benefit those who were born deaf. But I CAN HELP the few of those whose hearing is defective.

If you live out of town and are unable to come in and see me, a letter addressed to GEO. P. WAY, Metropole Building, Detroit, Mich., will be given my personal attention upon my return home.

Take the elevator and the attendant will show you to Mr. Way's Parlor.

Mott the Only Man for Mayor.

As the municipal election will be held in March it is quite natural that there should be a discussion of the availability of proposed candidates for the several offices. There may be some question as to who should be selected to fill the minor offices, but the call to the mayoralty centers upon one man—Frank K. Mott, who has filled the executive chair with distinguished credit to himself and notable benefit to the city.

Nobody should be thought of in connection with the Mayor's office but Mr. Mott. His administration has been clean, honorable and progressive. It has been governed strictly by a desire to serve the public interest. It has been characterized by efficiency and a broad spirit of civic patriotism. It would be a grave blunder to alter at this time the policy now governing the municipality, and it would be an equally grave mistake to retire the executive who inaugurated it for a new and untried man, however honest and capable.

Mayor Mott has been a faithful official in every respect. He has neglected his private business to serve the interests of the public. He has studied and worked with patient intelligence to improve and beautify the city and to elevate the standard of efficiency in the several departments. He has displayed wisdom and energy in promoting plans for the permanent improvement of the city. To his earnest and unselfish efforts the scheme of public improvement now in process of development is largely due. He has labored incessantly to arouse civic pride and patriotism and promote harmony in the different branches of the municipal government. He has accomplished a vast deal in the direction of street and park improvement—an extraordinary amount in view of the limited means available for such purposes.

While other officials are entitled to much credit for the progress of the municipality during the last two years, Mayor Mott has been the guiding spirit, the promoter and the director. The personal attention he has given to the details of administration, the care of streets and the affairs of the fire and police departments has been productive of great good. He is actively devoted to the cause of good government as well as in ardent sympathy with all legitimate schemes of municipal betterment.

All parties should unite in renominating Mr. Mott, for he is the man the people want and the city needs for Mayor. Oakland never had a better chief magistrate, and her citizens should hold fast to that which has proved good. Another term for Frank K. Mott is of more importance than any other issue that will be presented to the voters at the March election.

A Berkeley ordinance provides that no ball or dance shall be given in the university city without the written consent of the president of the Board of Trustees and the Town Marshal. Does this provision apply to beer busts at the frat houses?

Where the Mistake Was Made.

It is evident from the comments of the Japanese press that the President's message has given the Nipponese an erroneous impression of the powers lodged in the President of the United States. In Japan it is assumed that the President only has to command to be obeyed. The Japanese do not understand that the President's authority is limited by law and is powerless when lacking constitutional warrant, and hence they will be mystified to find that the President does not carry his point after talking so big. In that event a bad matter will have been made worse.

It would have been the better way to have explained to the Mikado's government, with which Americans generally are desirous to remain on the friendliest terms, that the public schools of San Francisco are beyond the jurisdiction of the Federal government.

Unfortunately, other parts of the message reveal a disposition to regulate parochial affairs from the White House quite in consonance with the spirit of the attempt to coerce the school authorities of San Francisco. However beneficent in motive, the spirit of paternalism can be carried too far; also, the lecturing habit may be indulged in till it takes on a hectoring tone.

Furthermore, the President seems in danger of forgetting the important fact that he is not a ruler in the sense that Emperor William is, but is an administrator for a certain period of the laws enacted by the representatives of the people.

As a leader of the people, voicing their wishes and asserting the principles of obedience to law, justice and fair play, the President is all-powerful. As a dictator giving commands unwarranted by law and obnoxious to public sentiment, he is powerless. The President would do well to remember that the big stick he flourishes with so little discretion over their heads was placed in his hands by the people to be used in enforcing their wishes, not in compelling their obedience.

America is not Germany—not just yet, at least, and the request for more power is not likely to be granted when urged in a truculent spirit defiant of public opinion. Even when an increase of power seems desirable to promote good ends in certain directions, it is likely to be withheld at the suggestion that it may be used oppressively in other directions.

It is all very well to use the tone of a dictator in addressing trusts and other law-breaking organizations of capital, but it is quite another to speak to the people as a despot. We trust the President, for whom we entertain the highest and sincerest respect, will realize this in time to curb his impulsiveness.

The President on Lynching.

The chapter of the President's message dealing with lynching is a timely and forcible utterance in regard to a widespread evil that is destroying respect for law and the courts and aggravating race antagonism. Mr. Roosevelt has never expressed himself better than in this denunciation of mob violence, which he justly stigmatizes as savagery. As an instrumentality for punishing crime it is ineffective and often criminal blundering, while its effect on communities is debasing in the extreme.

The President takes pains to show that he has no sympathy with crimes and criminals, and expresses his abhorrence of the crime of rape in unmeasured terms. At the same time he points out that lynching is no remedy for this atrocious offense, often making a victim of the innocent and allowing the real criminal to go unpunished. He cites the evidence of former Governor Candler of Georgia, an ex-Confederate officer and former slaveholder, to prove that many innocent men are lynched by mobs excited to frenzy by the outrage of some white woman and urged on by race prejudice.

While white men are frequently lynched, it is undeniable, as the President points out, that a vast majority of the persons lynched are black. Negroes are lynched for committing offenses that would cost a white man a short term in prison only, and where a white criminal would be left for the law to deal with, a mob and a rope is all the trial or shroud accorded the negro.

The effect of this is to put a race complexion on lynching, to give mob violence the color of race prejudice. In consequence, the law-abiding negroes shield guilty persons of their color from the vengeance of mobs and are sometimes led by the feeling aroused by lynching to make common cause with black criminals against officers of the law. Some excuse is found even for this in the fact that law officers very frequently make little or no effort to protect colored prisoners from lynchers.

The President wisely says there is only one right course to pursue in regard to the punishment of crime, and that is for all men, white and black alike, to stand together for the speedy and orderly administration of the law without fear or favor or distinction of color. Let lynching cease and the law deal fairly with black men accused of crime, and the sympathy now so often displayed by colored men for one of their race charged with offenses against whites will disappear. When the law protects black men from lynching and gives them a square deal in court, black men will respect the law and its processes. If they do not, so much the worse for them. But it is idle to ask colored people to respect the law when it becomes an instrument of injustice or is impotent to protect their rights.

In this connection it is proper to state that the Governors of the leading Southern States have of late years shown commendable zeal in putting down the practice of lynching. The Governor of North Carolina has recently set a splendid example in prosecuting and punishing lynchers. Governor Heyward of South Carolina, Governor Lanham of Texas and Governor Jelks of Alabama have all strenuously exerted themselves to suppress lynching, and have been backed up warmly in their efforts by the pulpit and press of the South. Even Vardaman of Mississippi, bitter as he is on the negro in some particulars, has tried to put down lynching and protect colored people from mob violence. Therefore the President's denunciation of lynching is in accord with the more enlightened and cultured sentiment of the South, as it certainly is with the principles of humanity and justice.

At any rate the President's message made a hit in Tokio.

One trouble about conquering Cuba again is that the Rough Riders might be unwilling to leave their government jobs.—Atlanta Journal.

FEWER SERVANTS IN FRANCE

Never in abeyance, the hoary question of servants is coming more than ever to the front. It is no longer the last but the first resource of drawing-room conversation. Where are we to find servants? the ladies ask each other the old familiar question. It appears that they are fewer than ever, and the species is threatened with extinction. Forty years ago 1,311,471 women domestics served French families contentedly and well. Ten years ago the latter were badly looked after by only 703,148 "bonnes," mostly grumblers. At the present time there are barely 500,000 women servants in France, and they are worse than ever, the ladies say. A great commercial venture is afoot to abolish the most trying species of domestic altogether—the cook, both male and female. Builders, architects, land-owners, financiers and the proprietors of a Paris daily are said to be interested in the scheme. The idea of the latter has been carried out already in a few buildings of flats in London, but is unheard of here. The company in formation proposes to erect houses with one restaurant floor on the top, the rest of the buildings being let out in unfurnished flats. Each tenant would have his meals cooked in the restaurant and served in his own rooms by attendants employed by the caterer. The total cost to each tenant would amount to only about 10 per cent, more than what he would spend on independent housekeeping.—Paris Letter to London Telegraph.

Something Sensible

Not only the suggestion, but also that to which the suggestion refers.

Here's a little letter that we have prepared for every reader of this paper.

Suppose you read it yourself, it may save you both time, money and not a little worry:

Oakland, Cal.
Dec. 6 1906.

TO YOU:

It is very probable that you are sometimes at a loss just what to give for a holiday remembrance.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred this question can be solved by giving a glove order.

Each year has seen a substantial increase over the previous one in the number of glove orders we have issued—they are constantly growing in popular favor.

For this Christmas we have prepared a very handsome gold embossed sachet in which to inclose our glove orders. Something which will be of permanent use and a dainty reminder of the giver. One of these we will give gratis with each glove order.

The orders are good for either gloves or umbrellas—two of the most useful things in the outfit of ladies, men and children.

Our glove orders can be made out for any amount and can be used at any time. This method of presenting gifts makes it absolutely certain that the receiver can be perfectly suited, and coming from Moss's, it will be doubly welcome because of the known reputation we enjoy for quality, style and right pricing in everything pertaining to all kinds of gloves.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, we remain,

Yours truly,

New York-New Orleans Passenger Service

On December 1st, the Southern Pacific Company placed in service between New Orleans and New York three modern passenger steamers connecting with San Francisco-New Orleans trunks.

They will be known as the "Creole," "Antilles" and "Momus," and are the largest American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade.

The "Creole" is the first American built ocean-going twin screw turbine steamship. The "Momus" and "Antilles" are each fitted with three double-ended boilers, the largest ever built in America. These vessels are of the same general dimensions, length four hundred and forty feet, beam fifty-three feet, and the internal arrangements are identical in the superstructure.

Accommodations are furnished for one hundred and fifty-two first class passengers. The state rooms are all outside rooms, light, airy, comfortable and handsomely furnished, and can be reached from any other part, without necessity of stepping out on deck. There are four luxurious suites, consisting of parlor, bedroom and bathroom.

The dining room, library, smoking room, bar and barber shop are each furnished in a distinctive style. There is a complete electric plant with turbine generators, electric lights, electric heaters, call bells, also fire detecting and extinguishing, fumigating and disinfecting systems.

Each vessel is fitted with a double bottom, and the hull is divided into twenty-two water tight compartments. These vessels have a speed of sixteen knots per hour or eighteen and one-half statute miles, and are the fastest in the American Coast service of the day.

A noteworthy feature of this service is that our Sunset Express which travels over the Coast line, (the road of a thousand wonders), passing through Los Angeles, the orange groves, and the Southern States connects at New Orleans with these fast and elegant steamers, insuring a delightful trip by land and sea.

For full information, or to write, contact the Pacific Coast agent, Southern Pacific Company, Thirteenth and Franklin streets.

Learning To Appreciate Them

Fine Rug Sales Becoming Popular in Oakland

The second attempt to interest buyers of fine art goods in this city has proven popular. Several weeks ago a large Oriental rug sale was held by the John Brunner Co. A fine collection was presented for the approval of Oakland home builders and the second sale conducted by Walter S. Mackay & Co., is again proving the fact that Greater Oakland has become a full-fledged metropolis. The quality of goods bought at these Oriental rug sales proves conclusively that Oakland homes are of the substantial class.

Commodious quarters have been allotted by the Mackay Co. to accommodate the buyers. These rugs have been consigned to Mackay & Co. by parties who shipped them from the Orient. In order to realize the cash quickly, they have decided to dispose of them at auction and have engaged the services of a reliable art auctioneer to conduct this sale. Many of these rugs are very valuable, being the private collection of a well-known collector and connoisseur. Sales are held daily from 10 30 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Holiday Suit Cases

A Suit Case is a positive necessity. It is used by both ladies and gentlemen for a dozen different purposes and is therefore more acceptable as a gift today than in all the past history of Suit Cases.

Strength and durability should be the basic features of a Suit Case; then they should also have a dainty appearance, should be fitted with attractive brass locks and catches, should have ample interior arrangements of straps and pockets, should have handles that it is easy to grasp, and the price should be right.

While writing the previous sentences, we had our own Suit Cases in our mind, as you will find when you come to choose one. Prices are.....$6.00, $6.50, $7.00 and to $16.00

Drink Beer In Cool Weather

Old Time Theory That It Was Good Only in Hot Days Refuted.

The theory that beer is strictly a hot weather drink is losing ground almost as fast as the prejudice against beer as an alcoholic drink. Beer is becoming more and more an all-the-year-around drink. In truth, to tell, fast becoming our national beverage, and with its largely increased consumption we are glad to note a steady decrease in intemperance. Rich, wholesome Pabst Blue Ribbon, with only 3 1/2 per cent alcohol, satisfies the natural craving of a strenuous people without the over-stimulation of strong alcoholic beverages and without the shattering of nerves produced by the excessive use of tea or coffee. With its refreshing zest it also carries a rich, wholesome food value that makes it a commendable all-the-year-around drink.

The major consumption of beer used to be in the hot months, then as winter came on the use of it would fall off very considerably, giving way to strong drinks, and hot drinks. Dealers will tell you that the call for hot drinks is not by any means of means so large as in past years, and they will also tell you that beer is fast becoming a popular cold weather beverage. With this increased consumption of beer the public is becoming more and more discriminating. It demands a beer that pleases its taste, agrees with its stomach and carries with it a richness and wholesomeness that makes it a sustaining as well as a refreshing beverage. Pabst Blue Ribbon meets the approval of all the people. It is the cleanest beer brewed because the Pabst process eliminates all possible chance of contamination. Made from Pabst exclusive 8-day malt, it is the richest beer without being heavy. Made with choicest imported hops, it is a superior tonic without objectionable bitterness. It agrees with the stomach because it is thoroughly aged and mellow. Physicians recommend it and most people drink it because it is perfect in age, purity and strength. Owing to the nourishment in Pabst Beer the body is better prepared to resist cold.

Quaker Club House Sausage

Have got to be the talk of the town, and why? Because they justly deserve the praise that is given them. Have you any idea of the amount of care that is being taken to give you the best sausage ever sold to the Oakland public? First, the meat is selected; we use nothing but grain-fed hogs. Second, we use just so much fat and just so much lean, always uniform. Third, the seasoning is weighed to the ounce. There is no guess work about the manufacture of Quaker Club House Sausage. The kind that was served at the sausage makers money can procure. The greatest care is taken in the chopping and mixing, and, last but not least, they are made in a well-ventilated, sunlit room that is always exposed to your view. We want you to come and see them made. Remember, we have exclusive right to manufacture J. Frank Stradling's Famous Quaker Club House Sausage. Fourth, we employ the best hotels, clubs and cafes in San Francisco before the fire. The kind that has got Oakland to talking now.

CONTINUATION OF OUR GREAT

STOCK REDUCING SALE

Do you intend to let this great money-saving opportunity slip by without taking advantage of it? If you do, your pocketbook will be a heavy loser. Maybe you think the choicest goods have been sold and the assortments are broken—possibly you don't know Keller's and have got the idea into your head that this sale is like those ordinary catchpenny affairs which occur with such wearisome frequency. If so, you are tremendously mistaken. The crowds are certainly coming our way—these are the busiest days we ever knew—but we are continually adding new goods to the lots on sale, and we guarantee every reduction to be exactly as stated. This store never tries to make words take the place of facts—never tries to electrify the interest of the people with common or bogus bargains. Come and see. It costs nothing to look.

OSGOODS' CHRISTMAS BAZAARS

Our department drug store at 7th and Broadway has enjoyed an enviable reputation for seventeen years—and it deserves it. It is still there, bigger and better than ever.

Our 12th and Washington street store and bazaar is younger but no less ambitious. The great big basement which we have added during the past few weeks is now fully open and ready for business. Hundreds of square feet of sun-lights and hundreds of electric lights make this section just as bright with illumination as though it were out on the pavement.

And the thousands of good things in it—you just ought to see them.

There's crockery, pictures, cutlery, books, dolls, jewel cases, fancy boxes, decorated plates, berry sets, cracker jars, decorating materials, stationery, Christmas cards, original postal cards, toilet sets, smokers' sets, manicure sets, carving sets, fancy ink stands—but why waste your time by expecting you to read a complete list.

One visit will convince you that it is THE place in which to do your Christmas shopping.

And that's all—and it's enough.

BILL SHOT UP THE TOWN

He Celebrates His Arrival in Richmond by Giving a Wild West Show.

RICHMOND, Dec. 6.—William T. Duchesne celebrated his arrival on the streets of Richmond Tuesday by vigorous attempts to paint the town a bright scarlet. He commenced to load up at the very first thrift emporium that he struck, and the rehabilitation process was kept up at each successive place as he made the rounds. He began to see visions of his cowboy days upon the range; the life in the saddle and of his unsavory aim with six-shooter in either hand. Then he thought it would be sport to instill a little life in the petroleum town. The knight of the range jumped astride his fleet steed, and with a wild and hoarse yelp commenced to shoot up the town. He attempted to ride his horse into the next resort that came within his vision, and performed other stunts that were pleasing to his esthetic tastes. But, alas! Marshal Gregory appeared upon the scene and the frontiersman was laid upon his blankets in the former's hostility. Yesterday he appeared before Judge Kennon and demanded a jury trial, which was granted. After twelve men had listened to the evidence adduced, they decided that defendant was guilty of the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was released upon putting up fifty simoleons as cash bail. Sentence will be pronounced Friday.

County Superintendent A. A. Bailey was in town yesterday from Martinez in the interest of the proposed movement to establish a high school at this place. The petition, which was signed by the people of Richmond some weeks ago asking that a high school be established here, was found to be defective, and the work must all be done over.

At the bazaar to be given by the Pythian Sisters on the nights of December 7 and 8, in the Bank building on Macdonald avenue, the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias of Vallejo will give an exhibition drill.

City Clerk H. H. Turley, who has been ill for the past few days, will leave tomorrow on a ten days' vacation trip to Hanford, Cal.

J. E. Molozzo returned home yesterday from a trip to San Jose.

A whist tournament will be given this evening in the new bank building on Macdonald avenue by the members of the Women's Improvement Club. A number of fine prizes have been provided by the ladies in charge and a spirited contest is expected.

A big house greeted the Gans-Nelson moving-picture show at Maple Opera-house last evening.

Two of the big boilers that will supply the motive power for the Los Angeles Pressed Brick plant have arrived and are being installed. The plant will depend largely upon electricity for its power, but the steam plant will be put in as an auxiliary to the chief motive power. The steam plant will also be utilized in heating and in mixing clay.

L. M. Perrin returned home yesterday from San Jose, where he went to get his auto, which has been in a garage at that place for the past month.

IS NOT ABODE OF RIFFRAFF

Rev. Wilkins Resents Charge That West Berkeley Harbors Flotsam and Jetsam.

BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—Rev. G. H. Wilkins, Presbyterian minister of West Berkeley, who is at the head of a committee of clergymen planning a campaign to defeat the "local option" provision in the new charter, has issued an appeal to the public for support in which he resents the charge that West Berkeley is the abode of "the riff-raff of Berkeley."

He denies that an "abyss" separates East and West Berkeley, the sections where collegians and manufacturing interests respectively reside. He charges that in other parts of Berkeley than the West End are exhibited the doings of the "riff-raff."

"We may not see many things seven days each week which tend to remind us that other parts of Berkeley at times share with us a part of their people for our delectation," says Mr. Wilkins.

His words are supposed to refer to the visits sometimes paid by the residents of the college town to the restaurants and saloons of West Berkeley, where relations from the more stringent regulations of East Berkeley may be secured.

After urging all good men to attend the mass meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow night, he says:

"We ask you citizens of righteous Berkeley, righteous because State law first compelled it so—that if you consider your present condition without the saloons a blessing, to show your appreciation by helping your weaker brethren of the West End to be able to enjoy the same blessing. According to a provision in the revised charter for our city, West Berkeley would be allowed to do as she pleased in regard to saloon regulation. We have nine saloons in West Berkeley. Help us to at least restrain them in number and influence until we may be able to drive them from our city."

SUFFERED BY FIRE.
The association suffered severely by the San Francisco conflagration, but it did not dampen the ardor or enthusiasm of its members. Indeed, a hopeful tone permeated all of the speeches delivered and the most glowing opinions were expressed of the future prosperity of the mining industry which was justly maintained to be one of the most important in the State.

At the first day's session President Trelogan reviewed the relations of the mining industry to the State, and the leading events of the year to mining interests in California, closing his address with the declaration that the convention had assembled for the purpose of continuing the glorious work for which it originally came together, namely, to extract the untold millions of gold that is known to exist in the mountains with benefit to the farmer of California and not to his detriment. Speeches were delivered that day by Vice-President Charles H. Dunton, E. B. Lynch of Solano county, John R. Tyrrell of Nevada county, Ex-Governor John Daggett of Siskiyou county, and Congressman-elect W. F. Englebright of Nevada county.

FEATURE OF FIRST SESSION.
The feature of that day's proceedings was, however, a carefully prepared paper on "San Francisco and the California Miner," by Professor S. B. Christy of the University of California. After outlining San Francisco's location, harbor, palace, and hills, streets, one-handed generosity, cheerfulness, optimism, many-sided cosmopolitanism and devotion to art and science, he commended "the stupendous courage and brave resourcefulness of the people in the face of the greatest calamity the world has ever seen."

NEGLECT OF RESOURCES.
This lead the professor, however, to reflect that San Francisco had been too exclusively devoted to commercialism for its own good, and that, in neglecting to develop the mineral resources of the State, it had compelled not only to send European and American cities for materials with which to rebuild. He continued:

"The iron ore of California has been shamefully neglected. It has perhaps been to the great extent due to the lack of coke or charcoal. Yet Sweden is situated very much as California, relative to the scarcity of fuel, and Swedish iron and steel, while not produced in immense quantities, are noted the world over for their fine quality. There is no surer source of permanent wealth than the development of the iron resources of the State. As proof I need only point to Pittsburgh."

The greater value of mineral resources of the State were dwelt upon, concluding with this reference to "California's greatest mineral product—gold."

"Up to 1903 California was furnishing more gold to the United States than all of the other States of the Union put together. The laws abolishing hydraulic mining have stopped the output by one-half, and to the Colorado has usurped the place at the top of the list."

"The farmer and the miner have heretofore been shoving in opposite directions, and neither has met with much success. It is possible to produce food to the benefit of the farmer. The entire State has suffered by these differences a loss greater than the loss in the San Francisco fire."

THE SECOND DAY.
At the second day's session, papers were read by John P. Young, on the "Increased Output of Gold on Commerce and Industry," by George L. Holmes on the "Dredging in Mining," by Rufus P. Jennings on "Mining and its Relation to the Past and Future Development of California," by Major W. W. Harris, U. S. A., on the "Object, Aim and Success of the California Debris Commission," by J. W. Knowlton of the Siskiyou County Chamber of Commerce, on the "Versatility and wealth of that section, in which he mentioned such famous gold-producing properties as the Black Bear, Advance, Highland, New Gold, Morrison, Carlock, Gold, Ball, Gold Run, Jilson, Dewey and Mono.

COPPER IN SISKIYOU.
Regarding the base metal resources of the county, he said:

"Copper deposits are distributed all over the county. Development of the work is being done there. The Ledge Company alone having $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 in ore blocked out. This promises to become one of the greatest copper camps in the West. He described the iron deposits and abundance of building stones, and dwelt at length on the glories of the Klamath valley. Most of the paper was devoted to the mineral wealth of the county, which has produced in its time great quantities of gold, and which has been studied with active mines, all producing immense quantities of the precious metal."

H. de C. Richards, an engineer of Humboldt county, read a pithy paper which contained among other things, the statement that the mining debris put into the Klamath did not amount to one-tenth of the natural washout carried by that river to the Pacific.

PRODUCTION BY DREDGERS.
Regarding gold dredging in California, Mr. Holmes had this to say:

"It is computed that the accurate figures of the amount of gold produced annually by the dredges in this State, but it probably approximates between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. A large portion of it goes to the wage earner, the farmer and the merchant in the vicinity of the dredge; power companies absorb a further portion; some goes to Oregon for lumber and some East for steel. The stockholder in the dredging company gets a portion occasionally. The dredging industry in this State has in its short life already purchased more machinery, both in weight and in cost to manufacture, than any other mining industry, and for many years to come dredging will continue to be an important factor in the production of bullion, not only in this State, but in many other less-favored places."

CLOSING SESSION.
Wednesday, Mare Island and Vallejo were visited, and yesterday the convention closed the first year of its existence by the reading of committee reports and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Vice-President Charles H. Dunton enthused the convention to a high pitch when he eloquently appealed for the proper recognition of the mineral resources of the State, saying:

"Let us take in the oil industry, which has produced $9,000,000 of the $25,000,000 of the mineral yield of California during the past year. Let us take in the quarrying of the building stone, which is as important as any other mining industry, the cement industry, one of the most important and valuable in California, if properly developed. Let us take in every branch and every kind of mining and varied mineral industries of California. We need them, need them now to be with us in the rebuilding of the queen city of the Pacific, not in her ashes, but who will rise, greater and more beautiful than ever, the grandest, most important and the finest city facing the broad Pacific."

PLATFORM ADOPTED.
John P. Davis, chairman of the committee on platform and resolutions submitted a report, which was adopted, requesting the California delegation in Congress to introduce a bill to effect the passage of a bill at the present session of Congress appropriating $200,000 for preliminary survey work necessary to ascertain the needs to relieve the hydraulic mining industry from impediments. The report states that the hydraulic miners have accepted the decisions of the California Debris Commission.

FRIENDS KEEP HIM IN THE LEAD AMONG MOTORMEN

George M. Smith Proves a Hustler in the Race for One of the Tribune's Prizes.

The world is full of people who are bewailing the fact that at some time in their life they let good opportunities slip by unheeded. The Tribune is giving away many valuable prizes. Only a little effort is required to win one and it is not much consolation nor credit to yourself to say after the contest is over that if you had wanted to win you could easily have done so.

Be ambitious for an "I don't think what you'll do after a bit." Success is granted to those who not only are prepared to meet the demand but are willing to work too in order to succeed. It is not the one who sits idly by that succeeds, but the one who takes up and doing and at all times alive to the opportunities presented.

Votes are piling in thick and fast to those who hustle after them, as can be seen by the many changes in today's standings.

The lists have become so long that it has been deemed advisable to omit the publication of the records of those who by Monday have not 100 votes to their credit.

A record of these votes will, however, be kept at the office always subject to inspection by anyone interested. Notice how many votes your favorite has and if not the required number send in coupon and you will be paid in advance subscription to help that name on the list.

The grand trips to Honolulu and to the City of Mexico are two shining lights toward which many teachers are directing their gaze. Unless all signs fail, some teacher whose name may not yet be entered may be one of the fortunate ones, for it is said there are several teachers who are much thought of who may not do her the favor of sending in her name, or better yet, start her with a subscription.

MANNER OF VOTING.
A coupon good for one vote will be published in each issue of the TRIBUNE until the end of the contest. This coupon, if clipped and sent to Contest Manager, THE TRIBUNE, will count as one vote for the contestant named therein.

There is also another way of securing votes and that is on subscriptions. ***** sloners and have erected expensive barriers to keep back the debris from the hydraulic miners. The debris, unless complied with all restrictions required of them, they are constantly harassed by the debris commission. It is pointed out that the vast quantities of gold in the Sierra Nevada can be profitably extracted only by the use of the hydraulic miner. The debris bill can be used to reclaim the 300,000 acres of swamp and overflowed lands along the banks of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, which are now valueless and would be worth about $80,000,000. That operation would serve the mining and the debris bill. The debris bill is now pending before Congress, from which source speedy and prompt relief is sought.

WOULD HAVE COMMISSION.
The convention urges the California Legislature to appoint a commission for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of unclaimed gold in the State, and the value of the same, and to report thereon to the State, the amount of ground to be moved, the approximate value of the gold contained therein, and an estimate of the cost of the same.

The convention endorsed the mineral lands bill and urged its immediate passage. It also urged the State to pass legislation to have a new segregation of the mineral lands of the public domain, which is now being sold.

To obviate vexatious litigation and excessive cost the convention urges the Legislature to pass a law that the United States so that all patents for mineral lands shall contain the date of the location of the claim.

Charles E. Rogers, of the debris bill, urged the State to pass legislation to have a new segregation of the mineral lands of the public domain, which is now being sold.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.
The association then elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year the vote in each instance being unanimous: President, William C. Ralston; Vice-President, Charles H. Dunton; Secretary, John Hendy, San Francisco. The secretary will be chosen by the executive committee, which will be appointed by President Ralston.

He Backed His Claim
(From the Buffalo, N. Y. Times.)

Last year a smooth-faced young man came into The Times office and asked for the Ad Manager. Nothing unusual in this, but when he said he represented specifics that were curing Bright's Disease and Diabetes, he was up and began to take notice, for he was an offer to do a thing that medical works decree impossible.

The thought occurred to us if this is fraud it is about the worst yet. He told a strange story and was in earnest, but we were by no means convinced.

He interested a druggist—placed some of the specific and left his copy. Next, it so happened that a member of The Times advertising staff had Diabetes himself, instead of being disconcerted the Company's representative immediately became interested and said that he would order a dozen sent free if the patient would let him to convince him and The Times of the truth of the claims made that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now curable. He kept his word and a dozen sent free. The patient was cured, and still another dozen and the case has been yielding ever since—and if Diabetes is now not curable a miracle is being performed.

The satisfaction that followed this demonstration in relation to a little real notice of the fact. Among others who read the notice was J. B. Anderson of Le Roy. It resulted in his coming to the Times office to get further information. He also was a victim of Bright's Disease or Diabetes, we do not just now remember which.

He was convinced and went home and started on the treatment himself. Six months from that date he called on the office and said "The Times for the information which he declares is saving his life."

The writer of this article has also had notice sent to him of several other recoveries as the result of his going. One is a business man on Jefferson street and he in turn reports a couple of others.

It seems to us that the time has gone by for the books to further declare Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable.

The treatment that is thus overturning orthodox medical beliefs was discovered in San Francisco by a descendant of Robert Fulton—Buffalo, N. Y. Times, Nov. 21.

NO THOUGHT OF WAR, HE SAYS

BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—"Thoughts of war are the lightest thoughts that Japan has today. The test of the future between Japan and the United States will not be a conflict of armies and armament, but will be a war for industrial supremacy. Japan is now reaching out for world commerce, and I predict that unless this country makes rapid progress along the line in which it is showing little disposition to progress, Japan will be in absolute control of the merchant marines of the Pacific."

Thus spoke Henry B. Miller, consul-general from the United States at Yokohama, during the course of an address on the relation between the United States and Japan, delivered before 1200 students of the University of California in Hartman Gymnasium today. Mr. Miller left this afternoon on the steamer for Japan, where he will resume his work for this government. His address was a spirited presentation of the Japanese problem from his viewpoint, and his analysis of the qualities that are making Japan a world power were listened to with much interest. As his address proceeded, it was evident that he was explaining what President Roosevelt meant in his message to congress when he said that the United States had "as much to learn from Japan as Japan had to learn from us."

The Home Telephone Company this afternoon filed a deed of trust to the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, deeding over all its property in Alameda county, valued at about $500,000.

CHILDREN'S BOGEY MAN WAS REAL AND DYING

Little Ones Thought That His Cries of Suffering Were the Wails of a Goblin.

The childish fear of Harold, and Alice Martin, who live with their parents in the outlying Glendale section of Long Island City, kept an old man, Carl Hammond, in a dark ice house for more than a week. And yet to their childish superstitions is due the man's release from his terrible imprisonment.

Not that Harold and Alice are responsible for the mistake that cost the man much suffering and nearly caused his death. But they heard his cries for assistance, growing fainter each time they returned, and did not know their meaning.

Harold, an imaginative child of 5, thought there was a "Thunder-man" in the building, and told his sister so. Gradually the possible tenants of the fearsome structure became, in his mind, a "Thunder-man, a Thunder-dog, and a Thunder-cat," and although his sister Alice, a year older, ridiculed his imaginings, she fled, as he did, when the feeble cries of the man imprisoned answered their timid rapping on the door.

Treasuring their secret, admitting to it not even their parents, the noises made, as they supposed, by the "Thunder-man," and his companions, might have failed one day to follow their timid signaling to him had not the reasoning mind of Alice demanded a solution of the mystery. That demand made yesterday, a policeman was hailed in childish fashion, and then the spectacle of a famished, emaciated man dispelled forever the fancy picture of the "Thunder-man."

Ever since Ridgewood Park, a fenced and wooded inclosure of some six acres in the Glendale section, was closed for the season, Alice and Harold, who live near by, have made it their frequent playground. The wind-swept, leaf-strewn pavilion, the deserted restaurant, and the bowling alley, hidden behind unsightly boards, were mysterious regions, to be explored cautiously by the little boy and girl. A few days ago, while wandering through the grounds, the children came upon the little icehouse. Harold drew his sister back, saying he was afraid.

"It is all, Harold, to be afraid of nothing," said Alice wisely.

"Ain't 'fraid," returned Harold, "but the Thunder-man's in there."

"Thunder nothing," said Alice, who by virtue of her seniority thinks she should be free from childish superstition.

"Besides, Harold," she went on, "you know mamma says there isn't any Thunder-man."

"There isn't when Mamma's near," said Harold; "the Thunder-man runs and hides then."

Alice saw that she had to deal with dogmatism, and, just a little fearful herself, she thought that a demonstration would both quiet her own fears and free her brother from his strange belief. So she set out jauntily for the ice-house while Harold, after much hesitation, followed her.

"It's locked, and we can't go in," she said, relieved. "But if we did go in there'd be no Thunder-man."

"The Thunder-man's in there," declared the boy. "Dare you and double-dare you to knock at the door."

Alice took the dare. Defiantly she banged with her tiny knuckles on the door.

Instantly it seemed to the children there came an answering sound from within.

"Help, help," said a weak voice. Then there was a low moaning.

Alice turned and ran. But Harold forgot his fright in the justification of his theory. Standing before the door he shouted after Alice:

"Didn't I tell you? There is a Thunder-man there."

"Harold Martin," called the sister, "run, or they'll get you."

Harold ran.

That was the beginning of it. For the next three days Harold was a hero and a sharer of the great secret with his sister. Their imaginations created the "thunder dog" and the "thunder cat," and the icehouse was a yet more fearful place. But on the fourth day Alice insisted upon tempting the thunder-man again. The experiment brought the same result. Then followed another period of trepidation, to be succeeded, in its turn, by the skepticism of six over five.

On Sunday, after the children had returned from Sunday school and had had their dinner, they went as before and agnostic to the park. This time Harold knocked upon the door. He had come to have not only an infinite faith in the world of his thunder creation, but a certain degree of affection as well.

"Doesn't it frighten you?" his sister asked.

"Yes," Harold agreed. "But Harold likes to be scared."

His knock on the Sunday afternoon was bold. For a time it brought no response. At last there came, not the voice, but prolonged cries, in which there was so much agony that the children, after they had run as before to a safe distance, decided to tell some one.

"I know," said Alice. "We'll tell a policeman."

The two wandered out to Myrtle avenue toward the Glendale police station. As they walked and watched there came riding up the avenue Mounted Policeman George A. Stull. "Just like a knight," Alice said. To him the children rushed.

"Do you see that icehouse in the park?" began Alice. "Well, there's a—"

Alice was saying, when Harold broke in with:

"There's a Thunder-man and a Thunder-dog and a Thunder-cat in it."

"Oh, I guess not, sonny," said the policeman laughing.

"I don't think it's very nice of you to laugh when you're told something," said Alice, indignantly. "You're paid to guard the city, too."

"All right, little girl," said the big man, indulgently; "we'll have to look at your Thunder-man."

So the three returned to the icehouse, where Harold knocked upon the door. The moaning responded. Alice ran.

"What do you think it is, son?" asked the policeman. Harold whispered:

"The Thunder-man."

"Well, we'll see." The policeman sent to the agent of the real estate firm which has just bought the property for subdivision. An employee brought the key.

"If there's any one or any thing in there it's been there for over a week," he said, "for the lock has been on that long."

While Alice and Harold looked on from behind the policeman, the door was opened. In a corner of the interior, lying on the sawdust, was an old man. His haggard, pallid face, his listless eyes, unseeing in the light succeeding the utter dark, were horrifying. When they carried him, semi-conscious, out of the little prison, the real estate man recognized in him a tramp who had been hanging around the deserted park buildings before they were locked for the winter.

Alice, thoughtfully, ran to her home and brought a loaf of bread and some water for the old man. He ate them ravenously. Then the policeman took him to the Glendale station. Later in the Flushing court Magistrate Smith was told that the old man's name was Carl Hammond, his age something over 60. He had no home, he said, and begged to be sent to the workhouse, so

He died Thursday last, (Nov. 1st), closing a career that was remarkable for his numerous escapades.

The Magistrate sent him there under a five months' sentence.

When they had taken the old man from the park, Harold said to Alice:

"There is no Thunderman after all, is there?"

"Of course not," answered the little girl.

BOSTON HAS TURNED FROM ITS ONCE LOVED BEANS

Coffee Is Now Said to Be Her Popular Craze and Even the Children Cry for "New" Drink.

BOSTON, December 7.—Boston is coffee mad. Men, women and even children stand three deep in front of the counters where the beverage is dispensed waiting their turn.

There is scarcely a moment in the day from early morning until dark that some customer is not thus employed, and at the luncheon hour the sole accompaniment of the coffee is often the lightest trifle of solid food. There are places, like those of other cities, where coffee is sold along with forty sweetened beverages, some of them mixed with ice cream, but the unusual thing about the Boston coffee craze is the fact that it affords support to many places where no other drink and no food is dispensed.

Boston does not call these resorts cafes. In Boston a cafe is a place where you can get almost any drink save coffee. A cafe, indeed, is held in low esteem by Boston respectability, but a coffee counter is a sort of social exchange.

People make appointments to meet at these places. Two or three just on the edge of the great retail provision market present at the noon hour a sort of epitome of Boston society.

Persons of the highest fashion, perhaps, do not frequent these places, but it is never safe to speak slightly of the coffee counters in any circle of Boston. Of course, there are coffee counters and coffee counters.

A VARIETY OF RESORTS.

There is one where you sip your cup and munch your cruller in company with the car conductor, the market-man who has driven in from his suburban farm, and even Jack ashore, who stumbles in with the hope of sobering up. There are others where you elbow Harvard professors, spectated girls from the art schools and university lecture rooms, and the most delicious old ladies in that kind of fine antiquated shabbiness which in Boston is the certain cachet of high respectability.

These various types meet on terms ranging all the way from nodding acquaintance to cordial intimacy. You involuntarily catch the most delicious snatches of conversation to right and left as you drink. A scandal-mongering society reporter of the yellow kind could make her fortune by frequenting the right coffee counters.

The coffee counter is a place to unbend, a place for the exchange of family news and domestic recipes for the cure of lumbago and the sanitary cooking of beans. Here, too, one sees the display of bargains by women fresh from the morning's campaign in the neighboring market.

SPECIAL TYPES OF BOSTONIANS.

There are coffee counters where you may study special types of Bostonians. One employs three or four pretty girls, and is the resort not of Boston's gilded youth, but of Boston's grizzled middle age.

It is delicious to note the awkward attempts of these veterans at gallantry. With only a narrow counter between the wrinkled customers and the fresh-looking girls, the temptation to the former is irresistible.

Coffee is sold at 2 and 4 cents a cup, and every veteran puts down his nickel and seeks to cover the rosy fingers with his dry palm when the change is laid upon the counter. Only dotation could enjoy this form of flirtation, but it goes on every day in the week and all day long.

If jealous wives do not make irruptions into such places, it is only that they know better than their lords the absurd futility of their gallantries. The coffee counters are as innocent of real scandal as a Quaker meeting.

Nothing about the coffee counters is more characteristic of Boston as she is than the fact that the patrons take their drink in full view of passersby upon the street. Boston is so enamored of her law touching the public sale of strong drink that half the town thinks it a fine thing to take its liquid refreshments of any kind in the presence of the other half.

NOBODY IS SHOCKED.

Nobody seems in the least shocked or disturbed at this display. The professors, their spectated young women pupils and the dear old ladies, monuments of ancestral respectability, turn their cups bottom upward in the sight of a gaping multitude.

Custom has made this public display

KING SOLOMON KNOCKED OUT

All His Wise Sayings Couldn't Flag a Bread Wagon on West Side.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—"Spare the rod and spoil the child" is no longer the rule. In this civilized age people are expected to raise their children in a civilized way.

That is the belief of Judge Winfield Freeman of the juvenile court on the West Side. He gave voice to it yesterday when he ordered Freddie Kaiser, 7 years old, and his sister Francis, 5 years old, taken away from their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kaiser of 306 North Seventh street and placed in the care of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kaiser.

Mrs. Kate Schuler, an aunt of the children, had complained to the court that Mrs. Fred Kaiser, who is their stepmother, was cruel to them. One of the children, the little girl, has been living with Mrs. Andrew Toller in South Park, Kas.

Neighbors testified that Mrs. Kaiser whipped the little girl with a strap because she did not eat as she thought she should. They said, too, that on cold days the child was made to stand in the yard as a punishment. One neighbor said she saw the stepmother beat the child's head against the pump because she was not strong enough to draw water. The little boy, it developed, did not attend school, but worked around the house. Mrs. Kaiser has a boy who is the son of a former husband, and she and Kaiser have a child. These, the witness said, were treated better than the stepchildren.

Mr. Kaiser, who is a forman at the Morris packing plant, said the little boy was not strong enough to go to school.

"The trouble has all been stirred up by the neighbors," he said, "because the little boy whipped a neighbor boy."

"Well, if he is strong enough to fight I think he is able to go to school," said the judge. "Did your wife whip these children as the neighbors say she did?"

"I don't think she whipped them any more than was necessary," said the father.

"Well, I think they have been whipped more than was necessary," said the judge.

The juvenile court law does not give the court power to punish parents for mistreating children. It may only take them away and place them in the care of other persons.

exhilarating rather than embarrassing for those who are not quite certain of themselves, and customers of assured respectability are stonily indifferent to the stares of the street. The grizzled elders execute their absurd gallantries with pride in the publicity with which the trifling favors of the pretty girls behind the counter are accorded, and the girls wink over the heads of the old men at younger men on the sidewalk.

The marvel of it all is that Boston's special providence has not taken official cognizance of these public goings on. With the next gubernatorial campaign a year off, some censor should have leisure to look to the nerves of youth.

REFEREE QUESTION PUZZLES IN PLANS FOR GANS-HERMAN SCRAP

Here is Kid Hermann who fights Joe Gans, in Repose

Below is Hermann and Adam Ryan in Action

Five Names Are Proposed, but the Choice Lies Between Jeffries and Siler--Managers Hold Vain Meeting.

By HARRY POST.

TONOPAH, Nev., Dec. 7.—The referee question promises to be fruitful of scrapings before the Gans-Herman fight passes into history. So far as Gans is concerned, there will be no trouble but just at the present it looks like Nate Lewis and Manager Riley will not be able to get together on who is to be the third man—that is, unless Jim Jeffries turns Manager Riley's offer down, in which case it will be comparatively plain sailing for Lewis, who is making a great fight for George Siler of Chicago.

So far as the merits of the referee goes, Riley has no choice as between the heavyweight champion and the veteran tender of fists, but the manager of the Casino Athletic club is out to make the fight the biggest drawing-card possible and he is of the opinion that with Jeffries as the third man the gate receipts will be increased several thousand dollars.

The question as to who shall be referee came up early in the arrangements for the fight. It was while Ben Selig, Lewis and Manager Riley were talking over the articles that Lewis started in to feel out his ground. Selig was most good natured on the subject and said that as far as Gans was concerned any reliable man would do but added that Eddie Grady, the San Francisco blacksmith, would look as good to him as anyone.

Lewis sprung the name of George Siler and dilated for some little time on the ability and integrity of the Chicago man. Manager Riley then had his innings and stated he was for Jeffries first, last and all the time. He said that as far as the matter stands at the present but it is a cinch that the referee question will be settled promptly in the regulation of his duty is to swell the gate receipts and he wants the biggest card possible for that purpose.

So far as objections go there were none made by either of the fight managers or the head of the Casino club, but it was plain to see that Lewis and Selig each had his favorite. Selig said that if it was necessary for a selection to be made outside of Grady, Siler or Jeffries, he would like to see Jack Walsh of San Francisco act. Lewis said that under the same conditions he would be pleased to see Ben Masterson do the honors.

In this manner five names were brought up and when it was evident that an agreement could be reached it was decided that the referee must come from one of the five names. That is how the matter stands at the present but it is a cinch that the referee question will be settled promptly in the regulation of his duty is to swell the gate receipts and he wants the biggest card possible for that purpose.

RACING AND BETTING IN THE STATE OF ILLINOIS

State's Attorney John J. Healy is credited with having said within two days past: "I am in favor of race tracks and have never opposed them. I do oppose gambling on the tracks, however, and will while I am State's attorney for Cook county. Gambling cannot be legalized in Illinois by the State Legislature, Robert E. Burke or any one else. Racing is all right; gambling is all wrong."

This amounts to stating that Illinois law makes betting illegal and that as a sworn officer he will do his duty in prosecuting offenders violating the statutes providing penalties for betting transactions. The statement that racing is all right is superfluous. Racing is as legal as selling merchandise. But constructing and maintaining a racetrack is expensive. Purse and stakes to attract good horses call for large sums of money. The officials and minor employees must be paid for their services and that calls for more money. All around conducting racing is a costly business. It cannot be carried on without reimbursing revenue. As the sport has been conducted that revenue is derived from fees for admission, from concessions for selling refreshments, from the sale of programs and, directly or indirectly, from betting privileges.

In the East little direct revenue is derived from betting. But the great crowds that throng the New York tracks go there mainly to bet and at $3 for admission, pay the bulk of the receipts of the racing organizations in that state. Thus in an indirect way it is betting that pays the bills, for few of the people who go to view the decision of a Suburban or a Futurity would be in attendance if they did not know perfectly well that they would be able to back the horse of their fancy. In the West the bookmakers as a rule pay $100 per diem for the privilege of conducting business, and this constitutes a direct revenue from betting that goes far toward meeting the expenses of the sport. Again as in the East, the people who attend go to the track to bet, it may be on only one horse or it may be on several, but at any rate, as well as desiring to see the beautiful creatures run, they fully expect and desire to bet they can pick a winner or two. Also, as in the East, the majority would not go to the track at all if they did not expect to combine speculation with observation.

The obvious and fruitful deduction is that high-class racing cannot be maintained without the support of the revenue derived in one fashion or other from betting. Carter H. Harrison demonstrated this to perfection when he wrecked Washington Park. There

BUCK FRANCKS TRADED FOR BASSEY

"Buck" Francks, the agile shortstop of Van Halton's team, has been traded for J. Bassey, an outfielder who has made a reputation for consistent batting and fast base-running while a member of the Omaha aggregation of ball tossers. The local management has not decided where Bassey will be played, but it is thought Jimmy Smith will be kept as utility man next season, with Helmutler in right and Bassey in Kruger's stand in the left garden.

However, "Buck" declares himself as dissatisfied with the prospect of being sent to Omaha, and though he asked to be traded he also wants to name the club. It is possible that the Omaha people will be compelled to make another trade for "Bucks" benefit, but in any case Oakland seems to be sure of Bassey's services for the coming summer.

GREAT SPORT AT LOCAL TRACK

LEE DEMIER GIVES THE TRIBUNE READERS ALL THE DOPE.

Books Durnell's $17,000 Lotus was the magnet of attraction at Williams Park yesterday. Five selling races were decided before the Queenly Watercourse dilly appeared on the scene to delight the 6000 impatiently expectant race-goers present. She went to the post sore however, and never cut any figure in the running. The black whirlwind closed favorite at 7 to 10.

The weather was all that could be desired and the sport excellent, and in the main satisfactory.

FIRST RACE—The talent got away flying today, by putting over Galvestonian the favorite, who was backed from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5. In the curtain-raiser, The boy was away full in his stride, and ably handled by Teddy Robinson, caught the tiring pace-maker Bushthorpe, and having ridden at the end, just got up to catch the judges' eye. Bushthorpe just lasted to stall off Avona for the place.

SECOND RACE—Johnny Miller has in E. M. Brattain a sure enough head-winner, and if ever the stable is out of order, it will not be the fault of the "gray streak." Held at 3 to 5 in the betting he caught the pace-maker, Cock Sure, when they were turning for home and in a mild drive easily shook him off, held Silver Sue and easily put up. Silver Sue gave the place from Cock Sure, who was held at 60 to 1 in the betting.

THIRD RACE—The masterly ride given by horse Yellowstone won the seven furlong race for him. While Watchful, Alma Boy and Jake Ward were fighting it out in the center of the track, Kelly on Yellowstone slipped through on the rail and just got up to win in a hard drive. Watchful backed from 6 to 1 to 16 to 5, nosed out Alma Boy for the place.

FOURTH RACE—From barrier to wire over a mile and a sixteenth of ground, Fisher Boy, the heavily played 8 to 5 favorite, captured the fourth race. Through the final furlong the winner stood a long, hard drive, and gamely held off the determined crowd. Third money went to Gov. Davis.

FIFTH RACE—The fifth race resulted in an upset for the talent, when Magrane, the 3 to 5 favorite, finished third. Watercourse turned up the winner at 8 to 1. Fury, the second choice, got place honors from Magrane.

SIXTH RACE—The surprise of the day came in the final race, when Lotus, Books Durnell's $7000 wonder went down in defeat. The proud daughter of Watercourse had the call in the betting, her price opened at 1 to 2 and receded back to 7 to 10 which was the prevailing odds at post time. The winner turned up in Sugarmaid, the despised outsider, with Delagoo second, and Gossiper third.

One of the best fields of the season will likely go to the post at Oakland tomorrow, when the Crocker-Stables' 6 to 1 event is at one mile for three-year-olds and upward. It will have a value of $1000 and will prove to be a very interesting contest.

Among the prominent eligibles are Loggins, Gun, Ray, Thelmo, Sir Russell, Corrigan, Martinmas, Gay, King, Princess Tiana, Phalanx, True Wing, Marsa, Mary F., Romaine, and Sir Edward.

Bookmaker Mike Kelly is at present playing them on the ground. He cashed several good bets yesterday.

"Dek" Campbell, the type plunger bought up all the paste board on the chances of Fury. He was a sadder but wiser man.

Jackey Brown on Sugarmaid saved the pencil a round run in the last race.

Johnny Miller's sterling performer E. M. Brattain won confidence from many backers by taking the second number on the card when the boy got ready to handle the horse.

Magrane, who ran third in the seven furlong race, stole a march on his fellow "jockeys" in the third race.

RELANCE CLUB CARD PROMISES NIGHT OF FAST, CLEAN SPORT

JOE MITCHELL, who is to fight at the Reliance Club.

Special Events Above Average.

The list of boxing contests to be presented at the Reliance club next Tuesday night has created quite a sensation among the local boxing fans. The impression that from the time the bell rings for the first event until the last has been decided, the fur will fly fast, and the spectators be kept in a thrill of excitement, such as only a fast and hard fought battle can cause.

The main event has the class of a championship contest, each boxer being more than ordinarily clever and each carrying a sleep-producer in either hand. Joe Mitchell and Willie Johnson, the principals, are hard at work at their respective training camps. Johnson is training in San Francisco and has the famous "Spider" Kelly to give him pointers in his work. Mitchell is working out in the mornings at the Reliance club, and as he is a lad of exemplary habits he will receive the best of training to be in perfect condition.

For the special events, in which Joe Kelly, who will meet Jimmy O'Leary, and M. Angelo will clash with P. Kink, the contestants are all reported training hard and are rounding into perfect condition.

The remainder of the list includes matches between Kid Kelly and J. Stratton, Otto Norn and Jack Shields and M. Menner and J. Duan.

The demand for seats has begun with a vigor, and the matchmaker feels satisfied that the strength of the card is being appreciated by the local fans.

HOW THE BREEDING BUREAU WAS FORMED

It Is the Result of a Thorough Investigation and Is Bound to Prove Beneficial.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—As the Breeding Bureau of the Jockey Club is becoming more generally known, various inquiries as to its origin are being received daily, and they are generally coupled with a query as to the advantages of thoroughbred blood and some illustrations of its merits.

The Breeding Bureau of the Jockey Club, which was organized last April, is not a Quixotic or experimental idea, as might be imagined, but is the result of careful investigation as to the real benefit of an infusion of thoroughbred blood into the coarser strains. This investigation was begun by the chairman of the Breeding Bureau fully a year before he introduced the resolution which was the foundation of this important department of the Jockey Club of the State of New York.

In the first place, foreign countries where such departments have long existed in connection with their government, were asked as to the results and in all cases the answers were entirely satisfactory. In England this movement is called "the government stallion" and announcement is made when each stallion will stand, the fee for service and name of the gentleman in charge of each horse, and advertised in the agricultural papers of the country. In each case such advertisement reads: "The government stallion—will be permitted to serve a limited number of half or cold-blooded mares at a service fee of 25 and a small groom's fee."

The result of this system is the great hunter, the superb gig and carriage horses and the perfect chargers for which England is famous. And this is the result of many of the kind of branch of the department of agriculture was even further advanced and races were given, the winner to be sold to the government for use as a government stallion. The same result has been achieved in Germany, Austria and other countries.

The pedigrees of the Kentucky saddle horse (a distinctly American product), were thoroughly investigated and proved into, as were the pedigrees of Lady's foot, and many of the kind and queens of the show ring, only to find that thoroughbred blood predominated.

All these facts and many more were thoroughly investigated by the chairman of the Breeding Bureau and his associates before the formation of the bureau.

M. H. Tichenor, of the firm of Tichenor & Newgass of Chicago and New York, who have hundreds of horses of all kinds annually sold in a public interview in discussing the Breeding Bureau: "This will prove a great boon to the breeders of New York State. The thoroughbred will naturally step higher on the look better and wear longer. Any other breed of horses, and in a few years it will enable us to buy this horse right here at home, and we can afford to pay for him, for in our business when we can furnish just what is wanted we can get our own horses and we will naturally pay the breeder and raiser well."

COAST LEAGUE DIRECTORS MEET

SALT LAKE IS DENIED A FRANCHISE BY EWING.

Bert for President, According to Slate in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—The Pacific Coast League directors marched up the hill yesterday and then marched down again, or, in other words, they did nothing but receive Treasurer Cal Ewing's annual report and refer it to a committee. The annual meeting was to have been held this morning at 11 o'clock, but the train from San Francisco on which were Ewing, Bert, Dan Long and Walter, was late. When the directors met in the afternoon Ewing submitted his report.

The magnates here for the meeting are Agnew and Russ of Seattle, Judge McCreedy and D. L. Shepard of Portland, Cal Ewing of San Francisco, E. N. Walter of Oakland and Dr. Burk, William Toomey and "Happy" Hogan of Fresno.

At the meeting this afternoon an application was received from Salt Lake to be taken into the league, with the understanding that Spokane, Butte and other mountain towns would come in if asked to in order to round out a northwest circuit. This scheme was turned down, Captain Ewing stating that the league did not desire to expand.

Notwithstanding the fact that the directors of the local club said the past week that they knew nothing of any slate having been fixed up, Cal Ewing brought one out when he opened up his grip today at noon, and of course it will go through, for Cal comes very close to running the league.

Ewing's slate is Eugene Bert for president, Senator "Coney" Pendleton for vice-president, and Dan Long for secretary-treasurer. Dan Long and Secretary Anderson came down with the San Francisco delegation, Anderson to resign his office, and Long to accept it when the formality of voting was through with. The directors will meet again tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to finish the business mapped out today.

Just what will be done about Fresno is hard to guess, for the directors refuse to talk about the situation. It need not surprise any one, however, if Stockton, San Jose or Sacramento takes the place of Fresno. The umpires will probably be "Bull" Perrine, Mahaffey and Derrick, and the season will doubtless be the same as last year.

Concerning the amount of money received by the league for the various Eastern clubs after the earthquake the treasurer said that the report that the leagues had subscribed $15,000 might have been correct, but that he received much less than that sum and that if the directors of the coast league were satisfied with his statement of the receipts the public should be satisfied.

According to the threats of former Manager Jim Moriarty of the Los Angeles club, the election of Bert may start something in coast baseball circles, for Moriarty threatens dire vengeance on some one if Bert is elected. He declared that he was very positive there would be opposition baseball on the coast if Bert was elected. The league directors, however, don't seem to be losing any sleep over these threats, and they intend to elect Bert tomorrow, opposition or no opposition.

HORSES STOP WHEN ONE FAILS TO CLEAR BARRIER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Those who got to the track in time for the first race today were treated to a spectacle in the line of jump races that they never witnessed before and probably never will have a chance to see again. For several horses to refuse to continue on their journey because the eighth member of the brigade failed to clear a hedge is enough of a novelty to cause remark and the Ascut animals which did this stunt today will have first call when the old horsemen get together and swap yarns of the turf.

When the bugle called the field to the post for the first race eight horses jumped to the infield to enter in a steeplechase over the short course. Tom Cogen was a heavily played favorite around even money. Cazador was next in demand and the maidens from the Schreiber barn and Lucky Baldwin's offerings were held at better figures.

The start was struggling, but the entire field went over the first two jumps in safety. When it came to the third, however, Cazador failed to clear the hedge and fell. The rest of the field went over without a miss, but as soon as they noticed their companion in distress every single horse in the race refused to proceed. They wandered around in the infield between the third and fourth hedges until lined up again and given a fresh start. It was on the result that the talent received a sad blow, for Tom Cogen, the favorite, failed to show, as Cazador was there or thereabouts when the finish was reached, with Potrero Chien second and Dr. Logan third. The time, which was hung up as four seconds, once the three and a half minute mark, was almost fast enough for the full instead of the short course.

Hill Curtis met with his first defeat of the season in the second number on the card, when J. F. Donohue crossed the line in front of the Blue plater, Uncle Henry was a good third.

DRIVER SPEAR EXPELLED AGAIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The board of review of the National Trotting Association closed its sessions here tonight and finally disposed of the cases of several persons connected with the Memphis gold cup incident.

It took up the temporary reinstatement of George W. Spear, the driver, after his expulsion several years ago, and again expelled Spear under the rule relating to the "debt" of horses. This case was brought before the board on behalf of the National Trotting Association on account of Spear's connection with the Smathers-Lou Dillon-Major Delmar incident at Memphis.

The board also expelled under the same rule Ed Saunders, the stable attendant who stated that he had administered "dope" to Lou Dillon at the instance of George W. Spear. The case against Millard Saunders, brother of Ed Saunders, who, one of the witnesses declared, had administered a certain mixture to the mare Lou Dillon, together with drafts of champagne, at the Memphis races, was continued.

The expulsion of Spear on the first count was that he pulled the horse Temple Bar on the grounds of the Cleveland Driving Park some years ago. He was then expelled and afterward reinstated. The board says: "The temporary reinstatement is withdrawn, and the expulsion is imposed from this time on."

FLANAGAN WILL NOT GO TO HARVARD

STANFORD COACH TALKS OF PLAY OF EASTERN ELEVENS.

Says New Rules Make Game More Spectacular—Less Mass Plays.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 7.—Coach James F. Flanagan returned to the campus yesterday after a trip to the East, where he witnessed several of the big football games. He denied the rumor that he was to accept a position with Harvard. Flanagan spoke of the openness of the game and described the play of the great Eastern teams. He ranked as best the navy aggregation. The Yale-Hartard match, he said, was exceedingly poor.

"The new rules have brought a decidedly different game into the East," said Flanagan. "They have opened up the game, made it more spectacular and practically come away with mass play. The new game thus produced is a far more spectacular and exciting contest than the old one. There was absolutely none of the brutality and unnecessary roughness which marred the Eastern games I witnessed last year. I do not believe that if new rules are so much responsible for this improvement as the greatly increased efficiency of the officials, who do not hesitate to rule men off the field for the slightest infringement of the rules. The element of danger remains unchanged and there is as much chance of injury as there was in the old game. The element of commercialism naturally still remains and always will remain as long as intercollegiate sport is maintained on its present basis."

It is understood here that Flanagan has found much in the new rules and is in favor of abolishing Rugby and going back to the first "love" of the collegians.

Reasons Why you should use Cottolene

- 1-Purity—The source of COTTOLINE is in striking contrast to the source of lard. Lard is made from hog-fat—and COTTOLINE from pure, refined cotton seed oil. Lard contains animal fat and possible impurities, COTTOLINE is essentially a vegetable product, and is pure, wholesome and healthful.
- 2-Palatableness—COTTOLINE makes more palatable food than lard. It makes food rich, crisp and flaky and at the same time free from that "greasy" taste of lard-soaked food.
- 3-Digestibility—Hog lard food is greasy and indigestible, COTTOLINE food is easily digested and will agree with the most delicate stomach, as COTTOLINE contains not an ounce of hog-fat.
- 4-Cleanliness—Lard comes in bulk and in insecurely sealed tins, which permit its coming in contact with dirt, dust and contaminating odors. COTTOLINE is sold only in pails with a patent air-tight top which protects it from the air, dirt and odor and insures it reaching the consumer fresh and wholesome.
- 5-Economy—COTTOLINE being purer than lard or other shortenings, one-third less is required.

LATE REPORTS OF THE FIGHT

Captain Ham Sends Account of Battle on Island of Leyte With Pulajanes.

MANILA, Dec. 7.—According to later reports from Captain Samuel V. Ham concerning the recent fight on the Island of Leyte between an American force and Pulajanes, a detachment of Company L, Eighth United States Infantry, with a force of constabulary, under command of Lieutenant Ralph P. Yates, Jr., was rushed by sixty bolomen four miles from La Pas on the Tarragona trail on the afternoon of November 5th. The Pulajanes had a few guns, from which they fired a volley and then rushed the troops. In the onslaught five Americans were killed and nine wounded. The enemy lost thirty killed. The number of their wounded and of the prisoners taken is unknown.

A detachment has started in pursuit, but as the telegraph is down between Tacloban and Iloilo, no further report has been received. The dead are:

Sergeant Joseph Clark.
Sergeant James Proven.
Private William Daffern, killed by the bolo.
Privates W. H. Hadley and Edward Keogh, shot.

MADE A TOMB IN A TREE

One of the most interesting historical parallels that one can find in connection with the Jamestown Ter-Centennial exposition, to be held next year is the fact that a hundred years ago on Jamestown Island, there was held a celebration similar in sentiment to that of the coming exposition, inasmuch as it commemorated the same historical event, that of the founding of the first English-speaking colony in America, and yet was of such a primitive nature that the records of the event are both interesting and unique, and not without a touch of humor.

The most salient remaining recognition of this celebration of a hundred years ago is found in Bishop Meade's book on "Old Families and Churches of Virginia," and is under the following heading: "Extracts from a Pamphlet Reporting the Proceedings of a Jubilee at Jamestown in Commemoration of the Second Centenary Anniversary of the Settlement of Virginia, May 13, 1807."

The functions in connection with the jubilee lasted for five days and were characterized principally by religious ceremonies. Visits were made to the old ruined church and the graveyard which had been practically destroyed, and the inscriptions on the old grave stones in almost every instance being almost illegible. One old tomb in particular was mentioned in the extract as having been caught in the embrace of a sycamore tree many years before, and raised bodily several inches out of the ground. This fact is very interesting to visitors of the island because the same tree, now old and gnarled, can still be seen with the tomb embedded in its trunk at least three feet from the surface of the ground.

The tomb is that of Mrs. Commissary Blair, who, with her husband, had been placed side by side in the old graveyard nearly a hundred years before. The sycamore shoot springing up between the two graves completely ruined the tomb of Commissary Blair, breaking it to pieces and scattering the remains in every direction. The top slab of Mr. Blair's tomb, on which the inscription was made, was of thick dark ironstone or black marble. It is so old and deeply imbedded in the trunk of the sycamore that the inscription is only partially legible.

WILL CHANGE NAME OF STATION
BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—The residents of the Lorin section of Berkeley, at the meeting of the South Berkeley Improvement Club held Tuesday night, voted in favor of changing the name of their local station, Lorin or South Berkeley, to the name that it used to have years ago, Alcatraz.

Secretary Miles and J. L. Tisdale of the club will wait upon the officials of the Southern Pacific and Key Route companies and ask that they change the name from South Berkeley to Alcatraz.

SUPPLIES FOR PANAMA CANAL.
W. J. Packard, inspector for the Panama Canal commission, is at the Hotel Grunewald, having recently returned from inspecting lumber purchases in Mississippi. Mr. Packard is attached to the local office under Assistant Purchasing Agent Redfern. On his last trip Mr. Packard visited Lumberton to inspect the lumber shipments of the Panama Lumber and Trading Company, which has contracts for over 1-1/2 million feet of lumber. It is intended to ship most of this lumber out of here, though at least two ships will leave from Gulfport. The steamship Amphitrite is expected here today to receive a cargo of lumber for Panama.

Mr. Packard left last night for Hattiesburg to look after lumber shipments to New Orleans from that place. He expects to return here next week.

Mr. Packard says that a large business with Panama is being done through this port. A ship leaves here every ten days with supplies for the canal zone, and they are not only supplies for the canal work, but also commodity supplies—New Orleans commodity.
